

BAKKU VASE BIG

Named after the Japanese word “Bakku,” meaning “bag,” this collection embodies a distinctive, fluid form reminiscent of a softly collapsing sack. Each vase celebrates the beauty of imperfection, embracing natural curves and subtle variations that bring artistic elegance to any space. Expertly crafted using the age-old technique of mouth-blown glassmaking, each Bakku vase begins as molten glass heated to 1,500 degrees Celsius before being carefully shaped inside a custom Mold. Air is then gently blown into the glass, forming its iconic silhouette. Once removed from the Mold, the vase undergoes a meticulous tempering process, with its top edge cut and polished to perfection. Finally, it is spray-painted in one of two sophisticated hues, each bringing a unique character to contemporary interiors: Smoked Forest a rich, deep transparency infused with warm brown undertones that evoke the depth of shadowed woodlands and Smoked Desert, a soft, warm grey with delicate translucency, reminiscent of early morning mist. Due to its artisanal craftsmanship, no two Bakku vases are exactly alike; small air bubbles or slight variations in shape make each piece truly one-of-a-kind. Available in two sizes, the mini vase is ideal for delicate floral arrangements on a dining table or as a refined accent on a console or coffee table, while the larger vase makes a bold statement whether showcasing vibrant blooms, sculptural branches, or standing alone as a striking glass centrepiece.
