Halo Moon

The Moon, our “neighbor” in space, the star of primitive religions, distant, mysterious and enchanting, a world where only fantasy and imagination, silence and adventure reign.

Through new generation optics calibrated to recreate a grayish light, Halo Moon reproduces this phenomenon of sunlight reflection which, after hitting the Earth, reaches the Moon and is reflected from it. A delicate and magical moonlight that will never cease to fascinate, amaze and inundate us with emotions by simply glancing at this mysterious element.

An increased height and a new generation fixed optical body allow you to view the light projection in large dimensions without compromising shape and concept.
