Pila Portable

Designed by Ida Tvede

Pila invites you into a celebration of the simple and the sculptural. Designed by Ida Tvede, this lamp takes inspiration from the idea of a floating sphere - its form a pure, elegant balance between art and functionality. Pila, meaning "sphere" in Latin, lives up to its name with a design that captures light within light, a glowing orb appearing to hover weightlessly inside its outer shell.

Pila uses the revolutionary ONE light source that offers a three-stage dimmable light and 12-hour operation capacity at maximum light output.

About the Designer

Ida Tvede's design approach revolves around crafting designs that not only capture attention but also ignite a natural inclination to explore and engage. Her design process is driven by a blend of intuition and experimentation. As a designer, she endeavors to blend aesthetics with functionality, drawing inspiration from natural elements in her work. In 2023, Ida broadened her professional horizons by incorporating "furniture designer" into her portfolio. While pursuing her studies, she delved into her passion for lamp design, which she now pursues with the same fervor as her furniture designs.
