Gesture

Pendant lampshade

Gesture is a pendant lamp designed around a simple idea: to create a welcoming gesture of light. A slender vertical form directs light downwards into the acrylic shade, where it is softly diffused to create a warm, indirect glow around the lamp.

The combination of the precise metal structure and translucent acrylic gives Gesture a light and almost weightless appearance. Rather than exposing the light source, the design uses reflected and diffused light to create a comfortable atmosphere without glare.

Available in two lengths, Gesture can be used individually as a subtle point of light or combined in groups and compositions. Its slim proportions make it particularly suitable above dining tables, kitchen islands, meeting tables and in spaces where several pendants can be arranged without visually dominating the room.
